

Platinum Airways

FF-209 Southern Air Transport

Southern Air Transport, based in Miami Florida, was a cargo airline best known as a "front" for the Central Intelligence Agency and its involvement in the "Iran-Contra" affair in the 1980's. Included in its many operations were supply flights to US Embassies in Central and South America.

Douglas DC-8

Lockheed L-100-30 (C130)

Aircraft

Douglas DC-6

Douglas DC-8

Lockheed L-100-30 (C130)

Embassy Supply Flights

1. Miami Int, KMIA to Belize City, MZBZ. Land and continue to La Aurora Int, MGGT. 886 nm.
2. Miami Int, KMIA to El Salvador Int, MSLP. Land and continue to Toncontin Int, MHTG. 1005 nm.
3. Miami Int, KMIA to San Jose, MROC. Land and continue to Managua, MNMG. 1146 nm.
4. Managua, MNMG to Miam Int, KLMIA. 884 nm.

NOTAMS:

Total 2121nn.